PRIDAY MORNING, DEC. 27, 1861.

The New Pian for a National Paper
Ourrency.

Many perplexing problems demanding almost instant solution, have grown out of our present civil war. Not the least intricate of these is this—How shall the Government meet the debt it has already created and provide for future exigencies? This question overtops all others except, perhaps, that in regard to slavery, and may be said to be of equal importance with even that. This financial question is pressing, and must be met and settled, in some way, during the war. Its discussion cannot, with any sort of regard to our national and individual welfare, be postponed till peace is reason as possible; and they while needs the way which seems impending over us, and in case of the occurrence with a foreign power of stored.

Very tany,

C. L. VALLANDIGHAM

The Intelligencer, in introducing the commubanker." It certainly bears intrinsic evidence of that such is its paternity. But we have not of that character be given now; and therefore it space for any extended observations of our own seems to me that I have a right to say that it is upon the proposed financial plan. We can only the duty of this house to embarrass the Secrebarely allude to one point made by the Intellipercer and also by its correspondent. The extravagant expenditures of money either for former says that "with its established convic- purposes of favoritism or with recklessness and tions in favor of a National Bank, co nomine, or, by that name, it is prepared; in default of such a needful institution, to give a favorable hearing to every well-considered scheme which proposes to furnish a substitute for that desirable, and, as it has long held, necessary fiscal ble, and, as it has long held, necessary fiscal agent for the safe conduct of large financial hour to be lost. But at the same time it is our operations, whether arising under the laws of right and duty to guard against any extravagance operations, whether arising under the laws of right and duty to guard against any extravagance on the part of those to whom we are obliged to trade or created by the extraordinary exigen cles of the Government." It regards Mr. CHASE's scheme as "offering the leading advantages formerly contemplated by the advocates of a United States Bank."

The correspondent puts in a similar claim for Mr. CHASE'S financial project. But the correspondent goes a step further, and draws from the funding of the National Debt of England, the principal of which can never be paid, an argument in favor of funding a like permanent Na tional Debt in this country, and making it the basis of a Government Bank, which shall furnish all the paper or bank currency needed. The new and strong Government, which is in and in order to close the accounts with agents, contemplation, and may become inevitable, if and for other purposes, the Government with-drew them from the market until to day. Mr. established and be modeled in a good degree after that of Great Britain.

Congress and the Holidays.

There seems to be a chronic antipathy be-tween Congressmen and the Holidays. They cannot agree together at all. Whether it be peace or war, it seems to be all the same; long before the coming of the Holidays, each Con-gressman seems to be intent upon his arrange-ments to fly from his duty and his labor by the time they are fairly at hand. Even now, when we have not only an infernal rebellion on hand, but are threatened with a foreign war besides, when questions as important as the existence of the Nation itself are pressing upon the atten-tion of Congress, the members are flying from their Halls and their duties to share in the enoyments of the season! 'Tis folly to offer any excuse for such a course, for none can be offered. If Congress is important at all and its labors are of consequence at any time, it is now when the country is in peril and in danger. Such a course ought to awaken but one feeling among the people, and that should be a feeling of indignation at such trifling with the most etern and important duties men were ever called upon to perform.—Sandusky Register

It affords us pleasure to be able to record this merited condemnation of the conduct of this Republican Congress, from a Republican paper. This trifing on the part of Congress, in these perflous times, is scarcely to be tolerated. Between Congress and the frauds exposed by the Congressional committee, the country is in a bad way.

B. died intestate in 1836 and R., one of the creditors named in the deed, and administrator of B., in 1837 filed his pastition in the court of common pleas for the sale of said lands, as the real estate of B., naming the heirs of B., and asking that they might be made defendants, and the lands ordered to be sold. The court appointed H. guardian ad liters of the heirs of B., infants, by whom they made and filed their answer, and three commissioners duly appointed and ordered, made and returned their appraisal of the lands, and a sale was ordered, on public notice; notice was given and sale made by the administrator, and was reported to and approved by the court, and deeds ordered and made to purchasers in 1820; after which H. executed release deeds to the purchasers respectively, and in 1840 died. Most of them were offered to take the contract at $95. The bid of Z. G. Sherman, for $84.75, was found to be the lowest, and the contracts was let accordingly.

If horses can be furnished for $84.75, why in the world does the Government allow its agents here and elsewhere to pay as high as $105 to $110?

The answer is plain. That would not allow some pet Republican wide awake to make his ten thousand dollars.

TO CARRIERS IN ANY PART OF THE STATE At the usual rates. As an established and reliable organ of the Democratic party,

THE STATESMAN IS WELL KNOWN.

In the future, as in the past, it will uphold and defend the PRINCIPLES OF THAT GRAND OLD PARTY Which has been so fruitful of good to the PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES; and wi.

DEMOCRATIC CREED AND POLICY IN ALL THE STATES As essential to the complete and perfect re-construction of the FEDERAL UNION. fOn the basis on which that Union was originally formed."

The Statement will support the Administration of the General Government in all legal and constitutional effects to put down rebellion; and sternly resist the efforts made in some quarters to convert the present unhappy war into an Abolition crusade.

It will acceptantly urgs economy in the public expenditures, and the most rigid accountability of all public officers.

As a medium of general news, the Stateman will endeavor to make itself acceptable to its numerous readers, and at all times supply them with The Latest and most Reliable Reports

Of the home and foreign markets. In its columns THE BUSINESS MAN, THE FARMER, MECHANIC AND LABORER Will find their interests consulted and attended to, and no effort will be spared to make it a first class newspaper.

During the approaching esssion of Congress we will have a talented and accomplished correspondent at Washington, through whom our readers will be furnished with much valuable and reliable information.

The doings of our own State Legislature will be fully reported, and the local news of the State and our own immediate vicinity, will have a due share of attention.

We urge upon our friends in all parts of Ohio, and the North-Western States, to aid in extending the circulation of the Statesman, since by so doing, they will assist in the promulgation of sound political doctrines and reliable general intelligence.

To any person raising a Club of Ten Subscribers to the Weekly Omo Statesman, and sending us the money — ten dollars — for the same, we will send one copy gratis.
